Grab a pole and push out from shore for Constellation's 22nd annual Fishing for a Cure charity bass tournament Saturday, June 3 on Braidwood Generating Station's cooling lake in Braceville, Ill. Teams (two anglers per team) will compete for some impressive cash prizes totaling $10,000. First place will reel in $4,000 and second and third place win $2,500 and $1,000, respectively. Those who finish in the Top 10 also will win cash. For a list of rules, visit ConstellationEnergy.com

All proceeds from this year's tournament will benefit Megan's Mission Foundation. After a courageous seven-year battle with Stage 4 Alveolar Rhabdomyosarcoma, Megan Bugg passed away March 9 last year at 20 years old. The organization's mission is to continue Megan's life's work by focusing on childhood cancer treatment research, advocacy, and scholarship. Megan's goal was to make sure no more kids had to go through what she had to go through at the hands of this vicious disease.

Since 2002, Fishing for a Cure has raised more than $700,000 for various non-profit organizations. Most recently, the 2022 event raised more than $57,000.00 for Advocate Children's Hospital.
